Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method for measuring blood oxygen level-dependent MRI signal, classified in class 436, subclass 173.
- II. Claims 7-12, drawn to a method of increasing cell sensitivity to cytotoxic effects, classified in class 435, subclass 325.
- III. Claims 13-19, drawn to a method of measuring tumor oxygenation, classified in class 424, subclass 9.1.
- IV. Claims 20-22, drawn to a method of determining the optimal time for radiation therapy, classified in class 424, subclass 9.2.
- V. Claims 23-25, drawn to a method of diagnosing abnormal pathology by MRI, classified in class 424, subclass 9.3.
- VI. Claims 26-30, drawn to a method of imaging glioblastoma, classified in class 424, subclass 9.3+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions require different analysis and provide for a different result, rendering them not capable of use together. For example, measuring a signal in group I can be done with a vial of cells, while group II requires a cytotoxic dose of radiation, group II requires a tumor to be present, group IV requires radiation therapy, group V requires diagnosis of an abnormal pathology and group VI requires imaging glioblastoma. These diverse and different methods are clearly distinct due to the different requirements, steps and goals set forth therein.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1616

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: 1) the various allosteric effector compounds as set forth by the various formulae in the claims therefore.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Note: the single disclosed species will name a specific single compound, i.e., a species, for the allosteric effector compound, which will name all variables of the compound.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
